Woe Be 'Frosh' Who Wears Not His Green Hat

What could be worse than to see a group of upper classmen bearing rapidly down upon you? At least that was what a certain freshman must have thought last Saturday night when he was captured by a group of boys because he was not wearing a certain green cap.

Everything went well for the boy the first part of the evening. He had attended the theatre and had succeeded in slipping past the group that was waiting on the outside for just such persons as he. He was first seen moving quite rapidly up a side street to where his car was located. Now his conscience must have been hurting him, because he had a date without an upper classman being along. That is also an infringement upon the rules that were set down by the Sophomore class. To get back to the story, he eluded the pursuers until after 10:30, but then the real story begins.

He was a little later brought up town and was placed in a group with several more of the unfortunate students. They were given a short practice drill in the art of buttoning. The next number on the program of the evening was a board meeting in which the freshmen boys were the principal participants. The meeting was adjourned a short time later and the boys decided that in the future the little green caps would become a permanent part of their wardrobe until Thanksgiving.

Honor Visitors

Four Other State Teachers College Presidents Given a Reception by Faculty.

A reception was given last Saturday evening by President Lamkin, the faculty members and their wives to the four visiting Teachers' College presidents: Joseph A. Sereno, Cape Girardeau; E. L. Hendricks, Warrensburg; Eugene Fair, Kirksville; Roy Ellis, Springfield; and to the fifteen new members of the faculty. Seventy-five people were present at the reception.

After the dinner President Lamkin introduced the four Teachers' College presidents, who gave short speeches. Following the speeches there was quite a discussion as to whether the thirteen new faculty ladies or the fourteen wives of the nineteen old faculty ladies are the best looking. At last reports no decision was reached.

The rest of the evening was spent in conversation, card playing, and dancing.

Juniors Choose Three For Student Council

The Junior Class held a meeting last Wednesday for the purpose of electing its Student Council members. The race for the three offices was close among the six candidates, but when the smoke of the battle had cleared away, the three victors were: Ward Barnes for the long term of three quarters; Mildred Sawyer for the term of two quarters; and Dean Johnson for the short term of one quarter.

The selection of a social advisor was taken under advisement until the next meeting.

Homer Needles Leads Services at Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Canfield Appointed to Take Place of Mr. Rogers as Faculty Advisor.

The Y. M. C. A. program last Tuesday was in charge of Homer Needles. The attendance of twenty-five was larger than usual although all present were not enrolled members. It is urged that those who have not enrolled do so as soon as possible with Vernon Barrett or Marvin Westfall.

Devotion was led by Orval Adams and talks were made by Vernon Barrett on "Social Activities", and Leonard Medsker on "Memberships and Finance". Mr. Canfield was appointed to take the place of Mr. Rogers as sponsor.

For the information of those that are new here, there is a Y. M. C. A. rest room on the third floor, room three, "Every man in college welcome."

Miss Mather Sponsor

The senior class has elected Miss Mather, Social Director of Residence Hall, as their class social sponsor.

Sophs Lay Down New Rules for Freshman Class

Green Caps Now Required of Yearlings.—Second-Year Students Entertain and Initiate New Students Thursday Night.

About three hundred students attended the Sophomore-Freshman party last Thursday evening. The Sophomores were hosts to the Freshmen. It is the aim of the Sophomores to establish a custom of introducing the Freshmen into the college spirit with an annual party. After an hour of initiation, during which time the rules were read by which the freshmen must live up to until Thanksgiving, dancing and games were started. The dancing was held in the east gymnasium and the games in the west gymnasium. Refreshments were served throughout the entire evening.

The class sponsors and chaperones at the party were: Miss Shepherd and Miss Katherine Franken, sophomores, and Miss James and Mr. Cooper for the freshmen.

Following are the rules laid down to the freshmen:

Boys:

1. The green cap must be worn to all school functions, and within the city limits until the last football game. They are not to be worn in any of the buildings, neither are they to be worn on Sunday.

2. No one may have a date unless a sophomore, junior or senior is along.

3. The front or main entrance to the administration building may not be used for entrance. The punishment for this is reentering on the hands and feet. The door may be used for exit.

4. Upon the command of a sophomore, junior or senior, the freshman must button. The command is given by saying the word "button". The buttoning is done as the count of one, two is given by the sophomore, junior or senior.

The art of buttoning is performed by the following movements: On the count of one the middle finger of the right hand is placed on the button on the top of the hat and the culprit stands at attention. On the count of two the knees are bent in a half bend and quickly brought to attention again.

The above rules are to be enforced by the sophomore, junior and senior boys. The mode of enforcement shall be the use of some form of persuasion that will not impair the health of the freshman. Anyone hurting the freshman to the extent of impairing his health shall take the responsibilities of the hurt upon himself.

Girls:

1. Green caps shall be worn to all school functions, in the halls and on the campus until the last football game. The cap is not to be worn on Sunday.

2. No one may have a date unless a sophomore, junior or senior is along.

3. The front or main entrance to the administration building is not to be used for entrance. The punishment for this shall be the bowing low of the culprit to the sophomore, junior or senior who has caught the victim. The door may be used as an exit.

4. They shall perform the art of buttoning the same as the boys.

The above rules are to be enforced by the sophomore, junior and senior girls. The mode of enforcement shall be the use of some form of persuasion that will not impair the health, modesty, or morality of the freshman. Anyone hurting a freshman to the extent of impairing any of the above qualities possessed by the freshman shall take the responsibility of the hurt upon herself.

The Importance of Right Kind of Cheer Leaders

Cheer leaders are manufacturers of pep, instillers of the true fighting spirit, and the life of a football team in general. Cheer leaders therefore must be full of college spirit and not afraid of hard work. They must have inspiring personalities and should be known and admired by the students whom they are to lead.

Cheer leaders are of as much importance to a team as the captain. They must know when to cheer, what yell to use at the proper time, and above all, they must know how to get the most concerted response out of their followers.

While the right kind of cheer leaders are hard to find, surely in a college with an enrollment of nearly 1,000 students there are at least twelve or fifteen men and girls who can develop in a short time into the types of cheer leaders that win football games, and know how to bring out all the enthusiasm of a crowd.

Will Send News

English Departments of Many High Schools Agree to Report for Northwest Missourian.

For the past few years it has been the policy of the college paper to carry in its columns high school notes from the high schools in this district. Interest in this feature has grown from year to year. It is the present plan of the staff of the Northwest Missourian not only to continue this practice but to improve, by means of closer co-operation with the English departments of the high schools of the district, the tone of that section devoted to high school news.

Recently a letter was sent to each high school in the district asking for approval of the plan. Judging from the large number of favorable replies received in the return mails, the high school news feature will be a success. Fifty-one schools have acceded their approval and cards continue to come in. In return for the services of the high schools the college has agreed to send each member of the senior class a copy of the Northwest Missourian each week.

Following is a list of the high schools which have agreed to co-operate in this plan:

Holt, Osborn, Faucett, Henrietta, Converse, Spickard, Barnard, New Hampton, Gilman City, Alba, Plattsburg, DeKalb, Maitland, Weatherly, Sampsel, Nishnabotna, Benton, Grandview, Corns, Elmo Union Star, King City, Chula, Fairfax, Cowgill, Bigelow, Worth, Cainesville, Ravanna, Pickmore, Bosworth, Latrop, Tindall, Skidmore, Maryville, Brimson, Stanberry, McFall, Parnell, Conception Junction, Altamont, Con. Science Club Has A Preliminary Meeting

The Social Science club held a preliminary meeting last Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of making plans for the organization for the coming year. A brief review of the work of the club was given by Mr. Cook.

A committee composed of Clarence Bush, Fred Street and Belle Riggs, chairman, was appointed to make a list of the officers to be submitted as the nominees for officers. They were to also arrange the program and set a date for the first meeting of the year, which will be held soon.

School Alive With Politics; Voting Thursday

Cleo Wyman and Pauline Manchester Oppose Burdette Yeo and Elizabeth Mills for Major Offices of Student Association.

An atmosphere of politics surrounded S. T. C. last Thursday as the primaries for the presidency and vice-presidency of the student council were conducted. The student body by its vote on the presidential nomination has put into the race for this important office Cleo Wyman, and Burdette Yeo. For the office of vice-president the Wyman faction has selected and the student body nominated Pauline Manchester, who is opposed by Elizabeth Mills on the Yeo side. The results of the primaries held Thursday were as follows: Cleo Wyman, 183; Burdette Yeo, 170; Pauline Manchester, 170; Elizabeth Mills, 160.

The final election will be held Thursday of this week with Mr. Foster's Citizenship classes in charge of the polls. The polls will be open from 9 until 3:30 o'clock.

The election this year promises to prove fully as interesting as did that of last year when "Abie" Blomfield was elected, if current feeling is any indication.

This is what the campaign managers for the two presidential candidates have to say for their nominees:

By John Curfman

By a majority vote in the primary, the student body has indicated that Cleo Wyman is its choice for the highest student office in the College. Therefore, I feel that I speak only the voice of the students when I mention the qualifications of this candidate.

"Tiny" Wyman is a representative student. He has taken part in school life and activities of all sorts. His scholastic record is beyond reproach. His popularity is wide.

"Tiny" Wyman is the logical man for the student presidency because he is a natural leader—popular with both those who support him and those who have elected to campaign against him.

We are asking that you vote for Wyman because we conscientiously believe him to be the man for the place. Confidence placed in Cleo Wyman is as a house built upon a rock. The foundation will never falter.

What has been said for our presidential candidate applies for our nominees for the office of vice-president. For the same reason that we ask the support for Wyman, we solicit your vote for Pauline Manchester.

In case you are in doubt as to which

Reserves Beaten

Clarinda Junior College Team Takes 2 to 0 Game on College Field Yesterday Afternoon.

The Clarinda Junior College sent its football team to Maryville yesterday to meet the Bearcat reserves. After a scoreless half, the Clarinda team scored 2 points late in the third period when Strong, Maryville quarterback, was forced to allow a safety. There was no other scoring.

Stitt, center, passed badly to the diminutive freshman and before he could carry the ball from behind the goal line he was downed for the 2-point.

The Clarinda team was rangy. It was about as inexperienced as that composed of the reserves. But, all in all, the visitors outplayed the Maryville outfit.

The reserves never threatened to score, and there were no outstanding factors of the game, which was refereed by Hugh Graham, a Maryville High School coach. "Ted" Search was umpire, and "Prosty" Froman handled the stick. Mr. Whiffen kept time.

The line-ups:

Reserves: Barnes, le; Teasley, lt; L. Cox, lg; Stitt, c; Hollar, rg; McGee, rt; Bailey, re; Strong, q; Davenport, rh; Wilson, lh; Hedges, lb.

Clarinda: V. Hayes, le; Gray, lt; Johnson, lg; Harper, c; Marley, rg; Janssen, rt; Short, re; H. Hayes, q; Liggitt, rh; Strong, lh; Linebaugh, lb.

Both teams substituted freely.

Results of Games Last Week

Maryville Teachers 13, Missouri Wesleyan 0.
William Jewell 10, Tarkio 0.
Warrensburg Teachers 27, Drury 0.
Kirksville Teachers 24, Kemper Military Academy 0.
St. Louis U. 15, Springfield 0.

Playing in their first game of the 1926 season, the college Bearcats triumphed over the Missouri Wesleyan College eleven last Friday at League Park in St. Joseph. The score was 13 to 0.

After fighting scorelessly for three periods, the two teams went into the final quarter with the Maryville team staging a rally from the rut in which it had been playing. This final period saw Captain Dave Eads cross the goal line for the first marker, and a short time later witnessed "Run" O'Banion career through the Wesleyan line for the second touchdown. On the try for point after the first score, Capt. Eads' kick was wide. His attempt after O'Banion's six-pointer was good, the ball sailing high between the goal posts and striking the top of the fence far behind.

The Bearcats showed by their playing in the first part of the game that it was their first encounter. The rough spots which only a game can knock off were visible particularly in the initial period. The game was marked by frequent fumbles, and twice and probably three times the Bearcats lost chances to score by muffing the pigskin in the midst of a ground-gaining rally.

But in the last quarter the team seemed to be a different outfit from that which started the game. The players shifted better, ran more smoothly, and each man handled himself better than at the initial kick-off.

After the Maryville team had scored twice, Coach Lawrence and Coach Jones sent in a string of substitutes. Undaunted, this array of reserve material started a march down the field, and a third touchdown was apparently nipped in the bud by the sound of the final whistle.

The game started with the Maryville team taking the ball down to Wesleyan's 12-yard line in the first quarter. Here a possible touchdown was lost when Willoughby, quarterback, fumbled and Wesleyan recovered. This was the first of several costly baubles to the Bearcat team.

Wesleyan retaliated with a rally, and the ball was resting on the Maryville 13-yard line. Here Henderson, the Methodist right tackle, was called back to place kick. The boot went far wide, however, and it was Maryville's ball.

Captain Eads tried but one goal from placement from the field. In the third quarter, the Bearcats had the ball on the Wesleyan 38-yard line. It was the fourth down, and the Maryville captain elected to try a place kick. He booted the ball. Direction was true but distance was lacking, and the pigskin sailed about a foot under the crossbar.

There were no outstanding stars in the game. In the line, Cox and Lewis, at left guard and tackle, played sterling ball. Best at left end was also good on the offense although his defensive game showed room for improvement. Graham played well at center, and the other linemen did their share.

In the backfield Captain Eads was responsible for the most yardage. O'Banion did some neat line plunging at instances, and Miller, who replaced him, was responsible for some nice work.

All in all, the team looked good for the first game. To quote Ted Packwood, the head linesman and a former Missouri University star, "The team looked potential and will improve greatly in the next week or so."

Grantham, Missouri Wesleyan right halfback, was perhaps the most valuable man on the Methodist team. He was injured in the game, however, and Duce, former Maryville High School star, replaced him. The latter was responsible for a 25-yard sensational run in the third quarter, but was later stopped by the Bearcat forward wall.

The Maryville coaches took their entire squad to St. Joseph. The trip was made on the Burlington train, the team arriving about 9:30 a. m. The return trip was made on the train arriving in Maryville at 8:25 p. m.

A number of rooters accompanied the team, and others drove from Maryville to St. Joseph later in the day. All who saw the game say that the Bearcats show strength, and Bearcat rooters are again hoping for a championship year.

The starting line-up for last Friday's game was:

COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will respect and obey the College laws and do our best to instill a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

RECKLESS DRIVING
Mr. Foster, in the assembly last Wednesday, brought out some important points concerning the recklessness in the driving of cars and particularly to that style of driving upon the College campus.

Wednesday morning a driver of a car narrowly missed striking several students as they were entering the College at the east entrance. This car came tearing down the driveway at a high speed and, according to the report, missed striking these students only by inches. The car did not stop or even slow down.

Now if you are a driver of a car, answer these questions: How would you feel if you had killed someone? How would the student body feel toward you? How about the family of the person you had run down?

There are many more questions that you could ask yourself concerning this question, but why risk having to make an answer to these questions? It only takes a little longer time to get where you are going if you drive carefully and you do not have to endanger the lives of the innocent bystanders and pedestrians.

TEACHING

Teaching is a tough job. Whatever good you do cannot be measured. You never know just where you stand. It is only your belief in yourself and the system you follow that carries you along. Results help very little, and while you see a certain response in the immediate work of the students, the big benefits you want to confer with remain a shadow. Grief is plentiful. It has come now to the place where schools are expected to take the child, rear him, cultivate him, and do all but clothe him and provide him with lodging. Parents in many instances are anxious and willing to shift the burden of responsibility off on to the schools. The schools have always been willing to do their share, but there is no institution in existence that can take the place of a home. If the home does not fulfill its purpose, nothing else can.

Then there are school boards who settle on the general policies to be followed. In the majority of cases they are men of vision and judgment but it is hard to work with a progressive board for a number of years and then be thrown with one of the opposite ideals. After building up a school from a low scholastic standing, after installing modern school methods, meeting requirements as to teachers and teacher's standards, putting athletics on a par with the other schools of the locality, having schools placed on the accredited list as the state university, to have a new board whose knowledge of school matters is negligible, come in and deal disparagingly with all these accomplishments is enough to discourage anyone. But this is part of the game. We have to accept it with a smile and have faith that what we have tried to do has not at all been done without purpose.—Dearborn Independent.

High School Notes

Plattsburg

The Plattsburg schools began the work with every prospect for a highly successful school year.

In the high school there are 25 Freshmen, 24 Sophomores, 23 Juniors and 29 Seniors. In the high school building there are also the 7th and 8th grades which comprise the Junior High School. In the 7th grade are 29 pupils and in the 8th, 23.

In the grade school building in grade one, Miss Rose Morrow, teacher, there are 26 pupils. Second grade, Miss Lankford, teacher, 28 pupils; Third grade, Miss Dorothy Reynolds, teacher, 23 pupils; Fourth grade, Miss Kerou Thurman, teacher, 20 pupils; Sixth grade, H. B. Hostler, principal and teacher, 21 pupils.

There is a good prospect for a fine football team this term. Nearly thirty boys are out for practice. In the basket ball season there will be a boys and girls team also.

Ravenwood

The Ravenwood schools opened with an attendance of 200 students. The enrollment in the high school numbers 66. The classes met and elected officers last week.

Osborn

In the first basketball encounter of the season the girls were victorious, defeating Amity 12 to 9. The boys had little chance to show their ability as the game was called on account of rain at the first quarter with Amity leading 4 to 2.

All of the classes were organized last week, the sponsors and officers being elected. The senior officers elected were: sponsor, Mr. Daffron; president, Wilhelmina Gross; vice-president, Allan Donk; secretary, Susan Everett; treasurer, Bernard Muir. The junior class officers, president, James Helbert; vice-president, Byron Lord; secretary-treasurer, Truman Leutzinger.

A great deal of interest is being displayed in basketball. Mrs. O'Brien expects the girls to come up to the record set by last year's team. She has built the team around four veteran players, Louise Bennett, center; Mary Milligan, guard; Cecil Moore, guard; and Captain Lella Graeff, forward.

Mr. Wickens is building most of his hopes around Captain Allan Donk, center; Winfred Hawkins, guard; and Emory Moorman, forward.

Beware, the dragon! The bulletin board is cluttered up with images of horror and cruelty. But they are only the results of some senior's imaginative mind and skillful hand in portraying

Grendel, the terrible monster in Beowulf which English IV has been studying. A few poems are also on the board which seems to imply that a Kents or Bryant is in our midst. This work is all voluntary as much of our notebook work will be in our new plan in the English department.

Corning

Following the call of Coach Diehr for football candidates about thirty men turned out for practice on the grid. With six letter men of last years team Coach Diehr hopes to build a team that will win at least a majority of the eight games on the schedule.

October 1.....Griswold, here
October 8.....Lenox, here
October 15.....Shenandoah, there
October 22.....Red Oak, there

Seniors: president, Ella Fries; vice-president, Robert Edwards; secretary-treasurer, Bruce Johnston.

The senior class is making plans for the production of the annual this year. The following staff has been elected: editor-in-chief, Ella Fries; business manager, Robert Edwards; advertising manager, Reid Hooper; athletics editor, Zolan Williams; snapshot, joke and art editor, Bruce Johnston.

A basketball call was made September 13 and fourteen responded. The suits were issued and practice was started in earnest. All the last year players are back and we hope to have a team that will make a good showing.

Jamesport

The Jamesport schools opened with a total enrollment of 185. Of this number 108 are grade students while seventy-seven are registered in the high school. This does not quite reach last year's figures of a total enrollment of 200.

Gallatin

The Gallatin school opened September 6th with the largest enrollment in its history. The enrollment of the entire school was about six hundred. That of the high school was about two hundred.

The line up of the faculty with the number of years each has been associated with the school and the subject each teaches follows:

L. M. Hosman (Supt.) teacher training, ten years; Rhoda Shaw Doolin (Prin.) English and Latin, eight years; Ardella Maffit, Science and English; seven years; Mary Cruzen, home economics, four years; S. M. Rissler, mathematics, six years; R. P. McWilliams, vocational agriculture, six years; Hester Dickerson Newton, social science, three years; Audrey Galpin, physical education, three years; Bess Troxel, music, three years.

The football team of G. H. S. got away to a fine start this season. A good squad reported at the first practice and promised material for a winning team, although the weather man has been unfriendly, the work out has been good.

The probable lineup is as follows:
On end, Paul Frazier, Barton Robinson, Elbert Morrell. Tackles, Lewis Place, Moss Clark, Allen Weldon King. Guard, Carl Leo Shelton. Lawrence King, Scott Graham (captain). Center, Buster Clements, Lewis Place. Quarterback, Ed Irwin, Ed Harris. Halfback, Ed Harris, Walter Tague, Vinell Surface. Fullback, Kenneth Rishesson, Harold Walton.

The call of the basketball courts was answered by a crowd of experienced players and they, like football men, have a good looking career ahead of them.

The first team was selected as follows:

Center, Marvin Tribbey, captain; guards, Melvin Estes, Harold Lee; forwards, Sam Johnson, Ollie Houghton, Leonard Brown.

The girls haven't drawn into the lime light at this writing but are practicing with vim that makes things go.

The Stroller

By F. F. F.

President Lamkin, Mr. Eek, Mr. Phillips, Mr. Mapel, and Billy Lamkin motored to the Missouri-Tulane game in Columbia last Saturday. Aside from having to leave their cars in Savannah on the return trip, the journey was a pleasant one.

Several things were brought out concerning this faculty of ours on the trip. In the first place, Mr. Eek is about the most prognosticator in the world. Friday night as the sun went down, he forecast the fact that Old Sol would rise in all his splendor the following day and that weather conditions would be ideal for the game and those who witnessed it.

Aside from the heavy rain, which was almost a cloudburst in Columbia, Mr. Eek is a true son of a prophet. Mr. Phillips announced that he was the jinx of the party and that rain would certainly fall. So Mr. Phillips has qualified as a dyed-in-the-wool, never-failing hoodoo.

When the party arrived in St. Joseph on the return trip, Mr. Cooper was added to the ranks. It was necessary to leave the cars in Savannah, not because both automobiles had become damaged by the excess weight of Mr. Cooper's baggage. The director of extension had been on a one-day trip, and he had only two large bags and several other pieces of baggage.

Mr. Whiffen joined the party in Savannah. He, too, left his car there and returned to Maryville on the train.

Other members of the party played a dirty Irish trick on President Lamkin and Mr. Mapel. They went to the depot in Savannah to investigate train service, and came back with the report that there would be no train to Maryville.

President Lamkin failed to swallow the hook, but Mr. Mapel digested the line, sinker, and float. He was worried because he wanted to get back to Maryville in time for work on Monday. He was not thinking of anything else.

The Stroller is back in on the job again. She has had quite a time the first three weeks in getting her work started, but he thinks that within the next week or two she will be able to spend most of his time on the job.

There is one good reason for being tall, the Stroller thinks, and that is because when you attend football games you can stand in the back and see everything that is going on. Frank Klein was able to do this very thing at the game in St. Joseph. It is rumored to the Stroller that he offered to make a bargain with several pretty St. Joseph coeds in letting them sit in his shoulders. It was just rumored but the Stroller has her own opinions concerning the matter.

Sometimes it is better to be walking than riding. That is walking rather than sitting. For more information concerning the matter one might ask Susie Hinkins or Margaret Sells. It happened all like this. Last Sunday these two young ladies and their friends started out in a car to see just how high the river was on the bridge at the pumping station. They found out from experience that the road was not as smooth as it looked, because when attempting to go through a large pool of water the rear wheels of their car dropped out of sight. They just stayed in the car (and so did their friends) because it was rather muddy and raining.

Several young men happened along a short time later and after about a half hour's work the car was put in the road and it was last seen headed for town and dry pavements. Moral: (at least it is the Stroller's opinion) Stay on the concrete when the dirt roads are impassable.

Mr. Withington does not want the campus to be destroyed and about a week ago he heard a noise that sounded a great deal like the howling of a calf, and he came running up to see what was causing the disturbance, but to behold he found not a calf, but Wynne Sauceman's Ford, creating the excitement.

The Stroller felt herself slighted at the reception of the faculty, because when the dancing began a certain now faculty gentlemen seemed to be extremely popular with opposite sex and would pay no attention to her. Well such is life, somebody is forever taking the cream of life.

What qualifications should your leaders possess? First of all, they should have executive ability—our candidate for student president, Burdette Yeo, was president of the Junior Class 1926, president of the Sophomore Class 1925, and officer of various extra-curricular activity organizations; Elizabeth Mills, candidate for vice-president, is now the president of the Residence Hall Board, was editor-in-chief of the 1926 Tower, and has held offices in various non-creditable clubs. Second, your Student Council officers should be versatile—Yeo was an inter-collegiate debater in 1925 and 1926, is a member of the Pi Kappa Delta, a national honorary for.

These records certainly stand unchallenged!

CHURCH RECEPTION

Maryville's five Protestant churches entertained the students of the College with a reception held at the First Methodist Church last Wednesday evening. Martin Lewis, Jr., gave the address of welcome and the music was furnished by the Simmons Orchestra.

The receiving line was made of the ministers of the five different churches: the Rev. R. E. Musgrave, the Rev. C. G. James, the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, the Rev. Guy L. Prather, and the Rev. W. N. Dewar.

The committee in the charge of the program and arrangements was headed by Miss Ruth Bookman. Other members of the committee were: Dorothy England, Miss Hudson, Lawrence Wray and Paschal Monk. Refreshments were served.

EUREKAN PARTY

A party for the members and the prospective members of the Eureka Literary Society was given last Friday night in the east gymnasium. The receiving line consisted of Dean Barnard, Miss Bowman, Dorothy England and Fred Street.

The first part of the evening was spent in group games and stunts. "The Dumb-belle" family outshone that of the "Ignatz", the "Gumps" and the "Hicks" in dramatizing a fairy story. The prize awarded the "Dumb-bells" for their presentation of the Sleeping Beauty. The latter part of the evening was spent in dancing and playing cards.

Hettie Mae Woodard, Esther Roseberry and Alyce Hastings presided at the punch bowl. There were about seventy-five guests present.

ELLIOTT-ROGERS
Margaret L. Elliott and Melvin Rogers, both former S. T. C. students, were married on September 5. Margaret formerly lived in Spickard and both she and Melvin attended the Trenton High School. Melvin is a graduate of Kansas City Junior College. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are living in Kansas City where Mr. Rogers is employed.

The success of our football team lies to a great extent in the support which the student body gives it.

If so, attend the games. Root for the Team. Yell your head off. Then you will have a place in the winning.
